The Information

Little is Much

In Matthew 14, the Bible story is told of a little boy who went to see Jesus teach. He took with him five loaves of bread and two fish. When it came time to eat Jesus' disciples wanted him to send the more than five thousand men, plus women and children, away because there was not enough food for them. Jesus asked them how much food there was and they told him there were only five loaves of bread and two fish from a little boy. Jesus took the bread and fish blessed it and gave it to the disciples to pass out to the people. The Bible says that all of the people ate and were satisfied. When they were through they gathered up twelve baskets full of "leftovers." No one could have done what Jesus did that day. The little boy had little when he gave it to Jesus. Jesus blessed it and did something amazing.

Working together we can bless others. Sometimes we can do some wonderful things by ourselves and many times we can do even better things when we work together. However, you should know that if you want to do great things you must ask God to be in it.

I read an amazing story recently which has encouraged me to present this article for our Newsletter. The story goes like this:

"In 1867 a New York Fire Company gave equipment to Columbia, South Carolina because they needed it. On September 11, 2001, terrorist attacked the New York World Trade Center and as a result many lives were lost as well as much fire-fighting equipment. A middle school in South Carolina decided to do something to return the favor given to their state by raising over five hundred thousand dollars. On March 29, 2008 just a few days ago, some of those middle school students who are now seniors in high school went to New York to play with their band at Carnegie Hall.

They decided to go by and see the fire engine that was bought with the money they raised together. Though no one person likely could accomplish this job alone together those students were able to do something terrific”.

Sometimes, we think we do not have enough to share. At times we think that what we have is insignificant and so we disregard its worth and value. We are not here by accident and so, what God has placed in our hands, however small, is of great value. Do not take it for granted. Value it and use it.

While the will of God has been the subject of countless books, great speculation, and curiosity over the years, at the end of the day, we need to embrace the fact that we will never fully understand why God has done certain things. While we are at liberty to question God on His actions or our perceived non action, it is our responsibility to follow His leading.

A good friend once said, “God will not do for you what you can do for yourself”.

At first glance, this took me off guard and troubled me. It made me feel as though God needed my help or my cooperation in order for things to change in my life. But the more I thought about it, the truer it became. The question is; as a disciple of Christ, that is a continual learner, what does God want you to be responsible for that communicates to Him that you are paying attention and striving to be faithful with what He’s put under your charge? What is within your power to do that may cause the Lord to say, “Let it be according to your faith”? A few practical things will suffice:

Develop discipline.

If we are without discipline, we are without power. Discipline is something that can be developed over time but requires consistency. Whether it’s getting to bed early, praying, budgeting, and exercising and the like, these all require discipline to be effective.

Embrace hard work

Nothing good comes easy. Hard work has never killed anyone.

Pray for wisdom

“If anyone among you lacks wisdom, let him ask of God who gives generously to all without partiality”. (James 1:5). Scripture encourages us to pray for wisdom because God isn’t always going to give us the answer we are looking for. However we pray for wisdom and trust God as we step out in faith to make choices.

Be quick to repent from sin

Proverbs 24:16 says, “For though the righteous fall seven times, they rise again”. God is after our hearts. He wants us to love Him out of freedom. Instead of being scandalized by our sins, let our sin become true godly sorrow that leads to repentance.

Examine yourself

Admit your strengths and weaknesses, your wounds and insecurities. Many of us come from broken homes and are in need of healing.

Develop an appetite for learning

When it comes to managing life and making it work, there is no end to what we can learn and how to better improve our lives. Taking care of our physical bodies, keeping a close watch over our finances, planning for the future and growing in knowledge of our faith is crucial to us.

A few days ago, I walked in a Bookshop I purchased the book, “The Power of Broke”. The book is written by Daymond John, the founder of FUBU and star of ABC’s Shark Tank tells his story. He started selling his home-sewn hats on the streets of Queens, New York with a budget of $40.00 and no funding. Daymond John says that he had to come up with out-of-the-box ways to promote his products. He says, luckily, desperation breeds innovation, so he hatched an idea for a creative campaign that eventually launched the FUBU brand into a $6 billion global phenomenon. He continued, “It might not have happened if he hadn’t started out broke- with nothing but a heart full of hope and a ferocious drive to succeed by any means possible”. This is a tremendous story of how, little is much.

I believe that whatever God has placed in our hands can be used to glorify His name and bless His people.

As we advance God's Kingdom, we are encouraged to use whatever God has given us to make a difference. Let us not despise small beginnings. A seed must fall into the ground before it sprouts into a massive tree.

Kittie L. Suffield penned the following Hymn: "Little is much when God is in it". This is a hymn with much depth and meaning and has always blessed my heart. Allow this hymn to inspire you and encourage you to understand that little is much.

In the harvest field now ripened
There's a work for all to do;
Hark! the voice of God is calling,
To the harvest calling you.

Refrain:

Little is much when God is in it!
Labor not for wealth or fame;
There's a crown, and you can win it,
If you go in Jesus' name.

In the mad rush of the broad way,
In the hurry and the strife,
Tell of Jesus' love and mercy,
Give to them the Word of Life.

Does the place you're called to labor
Seem so small and little known?
It is great if God is in it,
And He'll not forget His own.

Are you laid aside from service,
Body worn from toil and care?
You can still be in the battle,
In the sacred place of prayer.

When the conflict here is ended
And our race on earth is run,
He will say, if we are faithful,
"Welcome home, My child—well done!"

As we seek to advance the Kingdom, let us remember that, Little is much when God is in it.

Consecration

The PEC makes the following announcement:

Rev. Bonnie EBW Smith and the Rev. Devon Mannix will be consecrated as Presbyters on Sunday August 13, 2017. The service will be held at the Spring Gardens Moravian Church in Antigua at 5.00 pm.

Let us remember our two (2) Pastors in prayer as they prepare for this special service.

VIRTUE OF THE MONTH

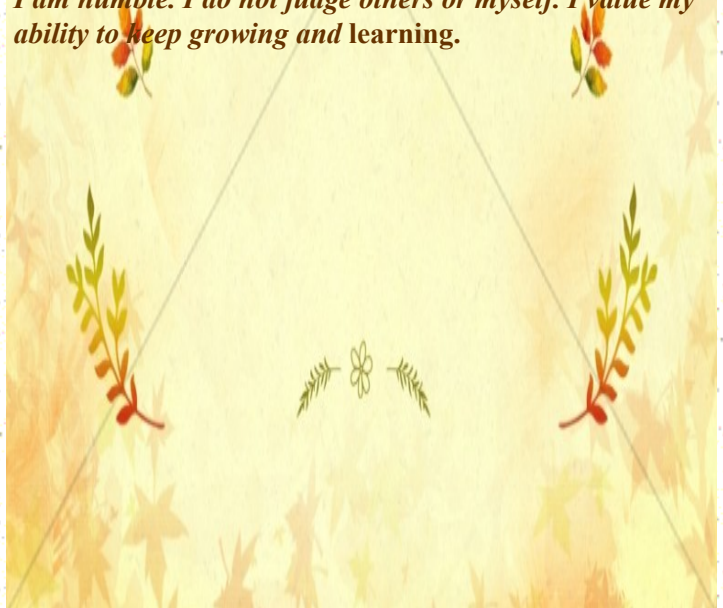

Being humble is considering others as important as yourself. You are thoughtful of their needs and willing to be of service. You don't expect others or yourself to be perfect. You learn from your mistakes. When you do great things, humility reminds you to be thankful instead of boastful.

You are practicing humility when you:

- ◆ Consider the needs of others as important as your own,
- ◆ Apologize and make amends when you hurt others,
- ◆ Learn from your mistakes and change for the better,
- ◆ Ask for help when you need it,
- ◆ Are doing your best just to do it, not to impress anyone, and
- ◆ Are grateful instead of boastful.

Affirmation:

I am humble. I do not judge others or myself. I value my ability to keep growing and learning.

Hymn of the Month for July & August, 2017

by Rev. Dr. Mikie Roberts, Provincial Director of Music

For the month of July, the hymn that has been chosen is # 183 O Jesus Christ, grow thou in me. It was written by Elizabeth L. Smith in 1860. The tune associated with this hymn is named Southwell. This hymn is a prayer for consecration and living in union with Christ. Throughout this hymn, the writer highlights the spiritual changes that will occur in one's life over time.

Each verse pinpoints the key areas where we ought to see clear evidence of the growth of Christ in us. Whenever Christ grows in us, we too are growing and becoming more Christ-like.

The hymn chosen for the month of August is # 683 You may be young and think and was written by George Mulrain and George Roberts in 2004. The tune of assigned is Follow Jesus. This hymn is appropriate for use among the youth of our congregations especially during the summer's vacation bible schools. It speaks about how God can work in the lives of youth as they open themselves to be led by Christ. The hymn highlights the many positive ways that the lives of young people can change when they choose to follow Jesus.

Below are the words and music for the hymn of the month for July and August, respectively.

O Jesus Christ, grow thou in me,
And all things else recede;
My heart be daily nearer thee,
From sin be daily freed.

2 Each day let thy supporting might
My weakness still embrace;
My darkness vanish in thy light,
Thy life my death efface.

3 In thy bright beams, which on me fall,
Fade every evil thought;
That I am nothing, thou art all,
I would be daily taught.

4 Make this poor self grow less and less,
Be thou my life and aim;
O make me daily, through thy grace,
More worthy of thy name.

5 Daily more filled with thee my heart,
Daily from self more free;
Thou, to whom prayer did strength impart,
Of my prayer hearer be.

6 Let faith in thee and in thy might
My every motive move,
Be thou alone my soul's delight.
My passion and my love.

1860. Elizabeth L. Smith

You may be young and think the world is at your feet.
Perhaps you live from day to day;
But I confess that I have met the Lord Jesus Christ,
And know that He's the only way.

I just want to follow Jesus,
Follow each and every day,
And I want to serve and praise Him,
As I walk the narrow way.
Where he leads me I will follow;
From the start until the end,
I will stay with Him forever;
He's my nearest, dearest friend.

2 I'm growing older, wiser, seeing things more clear
And value this great Friend I've made.
That's why I try to show Him off to all my friends,
And tell them of the price He's paid.

3 Life has more meaning now that I've known Jesus
Christ
I've got the strength to cope with all.
His Spirit is my guide, never am I afraid,
And I will always heed His call.

4 I consecrate my life to serving Jesus Christ;
I've made this pledge, to God indeed
I put my trust in Him and seek to do His will;
He satisfies my every need.

5 If you have not as yet given your life to Him,
I beg of you, do not delay;
I call on you to put your faith in Jesus Christ
And join with me these words to say

35 Years of Ministry - Cicely T. V. Athill-Horsford

(From the Winds of Change: pages 286 – 287)

Cicely has a deep, throaty laugh, a noticeable Antiguan accent and assertive likeable personality. She is curious about finding out why there are so many women in the church especially as it relates to men. (Of course, she has her own ideas).

Cicely was born in Liberta Village, Antigua. She was baptized in the Gracehill congregation in Liberta. She received her early education at the Liberta Government School. She received her secondary education at the Antigua Pilgrim High School in St. John's.

Cicely's ambition was to become a politician. She was discouraged by a close relative – himself a politician and a Government Minister at the time. She taught Mathematics for two years at her Alma Mater.

When she answered the call of God to the ordained ministry, she did not receive much encouragement from her family, community and members of her congregation. Her Pastor, The Rev. John Morman, provided the support she needed at this crucial time in her life.

In 1978, Cicely entered the United Theological College in Jamaica to begin her training for the ordained ministry. Three other Moravians were members of her class. They were Conrad Spencer, Joseph Nicholas and Neilson Waithe. On July 11, 1982, Cicely was ordained a Deacon in the Moravian Church at Spring Gardens, Antigua. She became the first female to be ordained into the ministry of the Moravian Church, Eastern West Indies Province. It was also the first time the Bishops G. Oliver Maynard and John E. Knight officiated at an ordination service.

Cicely began her ministry on Antigua and served as the Pastor of the Gracefield and Bethany congregations, and associate Pastor at Spring Gardens. This was a new experience for the congregations. However, the members began to respond to her leadership. When she was called to her second pastorate in Tobago, the Gracefield congregation was involved in the building of a new sanctuary.

Cicely has particular interest in Women's issues and the

She has traveled extensively through the islands.

Cicely served as pastor of the Spring Gardens and Bon Accord congregations on Tobago. She believes that the years at these congregations tested her call to ministry. During these years, she found encouragement in the following biblical passage. "Try even harder to make God's call and choice of you a permanent experience, and in doing so, you will never abandon your faith" (2 Peter 1:10 [TEV]).

On September 30, 1989 she was united in marriage to Keith Horsford, a national of Trinidad and Tobago. She described him (Keith) as a tower of strength for her.

Cicely was consecrated a presbyter at Spring Gardens, Antigua on June 17, 1991 by Bishop Neville Neil.

In 1989 Cicely was called to serve as pastor of the Rose Hill, Belmont and L'Anse Noir congregations in Trinidad. In 1989 she was appointed Superintendent of the Moravian work on that island.

From 1994 to 1997, Cicely served as the President of the Christian Council of Trinidad and Tobago and served as a member of the continuation Committee (The Executive Board) of the Caribbean Conference of Churches (CCC) for 17 years.

She holds a Doctor of Ministry – Church Management from Carolina University of Theology.

In 2003 Cicely was called to serve as the pastor of the Mount Tabor and Penuel congregations in Barbados. She served on furlough in South Africa, on the Board of World Mission and in The Western Province, Tanzania.

Bethlehem Moravians celebrate 275th Anniversary with Lovefeast

Congregants sang hymns while sacristans fanned out among them passing out sugar cake, mugs of decaffeinated coffee and juice boxes for children as the Moravian Church of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania celebrated a very special "love feast" on Sunday, June 25th 2017.

The worship service of prayer, songs and food marked the 275th anniversary — to the very day — that the Moravian Congregation of Bethlehem was formally organized.

While famously true that Bethlehem was founded by a small group of Moravian missionaries led by Count Nicholas von Zinzendorf on Christmas Eve 1741, there was no formally organized congregation there for another six months.

As anniversary celebration Chairman Dr. Paul Peucker explained, there were only two buildings at the settlement in June 1742, the First House, on a bluff overlooking the Monocacy Creek at the current site of the Hotel Bethlehem, and the Gemeinhaus, which had just been completed to house new arrivals.

"Months earlier, a group of people had been selected from the German and English congregations to populate Bethlehem, setting sail to Pennsylvania at the end of February," said Peucker, the director and lead archivist of the Moravian Archives in Bethlehem and one of three anniversary speakers at the service.

Moravians from the Lehigh Valley and elsewhere came together on Sunday for a love feast marking the 275th anniversary of the city of Bethlehem at Moravian College in Bethlehem.

"After a sea journey of three months, this first so-called sea congregation arrived in Philadelphia and walked in four days to Bethlehem, where they were welcomed by Zinzendorf, June 20."

Five days later, they were organized into a "pilgrims congregation," to go out into the Pennsylvania wilderness and spread the gospel, and a "house congregation," to provide material support for the

"They believed the New World was the place they would be able to realize their goal to unite the divided Christian denominations," Peucker said. "Bethlehem was not to be the center of a new church, but it was supposed to be a hope for Christians from all denominations based on their common love of Christ.

"No one was to be left out, but everyone was to be included, also those who lived on the fringes of society: African slaves and American Indians."

The love feast was the conclusion of the city's 275th anniversary festivities that began with Deed Day on April 2, 2016, when the original deed for the 500-acre tract of Bethlehem was displayed at the Moravian Archives.

During the anniversary year, Bethlehem has organized many events for the community. Bethlehem Area Moravians has sponsored many activities, including a coloring book that was given to all third-graders in Bethlehem as an anniversary present.

The Rt. Rev. M. Blair Couch, a bishop in the Moravian Church and a direct descendant of Zinzendorf, told the 300 or so congregants in attendance that the community still bears a "spiritual resemblance" to its founder.

"It's no surprise to me that looking back over 275 years, this spiritual resemblance has manifested itself in the Moravian Academy and the Moravian College & Seminary, the successful oldest bookstore in America, numerous choirs both vocal and instrumental, wonderful museums, archives, historical societies, numerous mission projects," she said.

"More recently, the roots of this spiritual resemblance have, I believe, spawned other ventures, which flourish in the secular realm: Musikfest, the Banana Factory and Arts Quest, to name a few," Couch continued.

"I believe it's those spiritual roots of Bethlehem that make for fertile soil."

While the community continues to flourish, the Moravian Church continues to grow worldwide, according to the Rev. Dr. Cortroy Jarvis of Antigua, the President of the Worldwide Moravian Unity Board.

"Just over four weeks ago, we got an invitation from someone deep in the jungles of Brazil for the first time," he said, "And so we have started to explore because they have invited the Moravian Church to come to minister to them."

The Moravians also have growing mission areas in Haiti, French Guyana, Peru, Belize and the African countries of Rwanda, Uganda, Kenya and Burundi, Jarvis said.

"The church must continue to be a refuge for the sick, the suffering, the dispossessed, the homeless, the lost and those who feel helpless and hopeless," he said.

"The Bethlehem Area Moravian Churches are challenged to be the salt of the earth and the light of the world. You must be the churches that impact the community for good."

The ideals held up by the original Bethlehem Moravian community are "countercultural, as much so today as back then in 1742," Peucker said.

"In a world of individual colonists pursuing individual goals and competing with one another to succeed, this Moravian family of love stood out as a model of compassion," he said.

"The expectations were high on this date 275 years ago, and the Moravians realized this. Every year since then, the Moravians have looked back and reflected on their origins, considered their shortcomings, and reaffirmed that continued pursuit of a better future, a world of compassion for one another."

PEC MEETING

The PEC will meet in the Virgin Islands Conference—St. Croix from July 20 to July 23, 2017.

Please bear up the members of the PEC in prayer

The Moravian Church Eastern West Indies Province, offers condolences to the Rev. Junior Sean Roberts and family, on the passing of their Father Mr. Ralph Roberts. He passed into the near presence of God on Wednesday, June 07, 2017 at the Mount St. John Medical Centre in Antigua.

The Service of thanksgiving for the life of the late Ralph Roberts will be held on Wednesday, July 05, 2017, at the Spring Gardens Moravian Church, St. John's, Antigua. The service begins at 1.00 pm. The internment will be at the Lebanon Moravian Cemetery in Sea View Farm, Antigua.

Let us keep Rev. Roberts and his family in prayer.

Joke of the Day

A guy took his blonde girlfriend to her first football game. They had great seats right behind their team's bench. After the game, he asked her how she liked the experience. "Oh, I really liked it," she replied, "especially the tight pants and all the big muscles, but I just couldn't understand why they were killing each other over 25 cents." Dumbfounded, her date asked, "What do you mean?" "Well, they flipped a coin, one team got it, and then for the rest of the game, all they kept screaming was, 'Get the quarterback! Get the quarterback!' I'm like, hello? It's only 25 cents!"
